

FINAL RESULTS EDITION

PRICE ONE CENT.

The World

"Circulation Books Open to All."

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, APRIL 27, 1906.

FINAL RESULTS EDITION

PRICE ONE CENT.

YANKEES KEEP ON WINNING AT ATHENS

MRS. DUKE NOT ILL, BUT DODGING, SAYS DOCTOR

Able to Attend Divorce Hearing if She Wishes, He Reports.

AWAY FROM COURT.

Huntton, Co-respondent, Also Absent, but Vice-Chancellor Orders Case to Go On.

Dr. Joseph Fawcett, who was appointed yesterday by the court to examine Mrs. James B. Duke as to her reported illness, was called to the stand at the opening of the Duke divorce case in Newark to-day. He said Mrs. Duke is not ill and showed no signs of illness when he saw her, and could have been in court yesterday had she desired.

When she failed to appear yesterday morning her lawyers said she was suffering from a bad cold, contracted in the heavy rain of Monday. When Dr. Fawcett went to her home yesterday to examine her, by agreement of counsel, she told him she was suffering from intestinal derangement.

Counselor Lindabury, for Mrs. Duke moved, in view of the fact that Mrs. Duke is able to attend court if she chooses, according to the medical man agreed upon by both sides, that her attorneys be compelled to proceed with the trial by cross-examining witnesses in the absence of the defendant.

In support of his motion Mr. Lindabury said Mrs. Duke's maid, who was in court yesterday, went to a telephone and warned her mistress that Dr. Fawcett was on his way to examine her. He said he understood the maid went to the office of Chauncey Parker, of Mrs. Duke's counsel, to send her message. He asked Mr. Parker as to this.

Mr. Lindabury said Mr. Parker, "I consider your question insulting."

"Then," said Mr. Lindabury, "you may consider yourself insulted. Mrs. Duke did not call in her own physician until noon yesterday, after she had heard from her maid. I ask that Mr. Parker be required to produce the person who has charge of the telephone in his office."

Mr. Parker objected. Mr. Lindabury withdrew that motion, and then requested the one that the defense be required to cross-examine.

"All I have to say," said the court, "is that if the defense does not cross-examine Mrs. Duke, she will not be permitted to have the trial of the witness, Nellie Sands, dying, becoming permanently disabled or running away. In the event of any of these things happening the testimony she gave yesterday must stand."

Nellie Sands was recalled by Mr. Lindabury to clear up some loose ends in her testimony given yesterday. The girl testified that she left Paris on the wedding tour of Mr. and Mrs. Duke on Jan. 22, 1906, arriving in London the next day. At the Carlton Hotel in London the witness received three letters addressed in the handwriting of Huntton, the co-respondent. These letters she turned over to Mrs. Duke.

"Did Mrs. Duke have any household pets when she married Mr. Duke?" asked Mr. Lindabury.

"A dog and a bird," replied the witness.

Q. What did she do with them when she went on her bridal tour? A. Left them at home.

In one of the newspaper personals through which it is charged Huntton communicated with Mrs. Duke in Paris, while he was living in her house in

(Continued on Second Page.)

LEXINGTON RESULTS.

LEXINGTON, April 27.—The races here to-day resulted as follows:

FIRST RACE—Four and one-half furlongs. Mattie Mack (3 to 1) and 3 to 1. Homeless (1 to 2 for place) 2, Clara Dee 3. Time—1:15.5.

SECOND RACE—Seven-eighths of a mile—Banner (6 to 1) and 2 to 1. Miss Hanley (7 to 5 for place) 2, The Mate 3. Time—1:25.5.

THIRD RACE—Four and one-half furlongs. Mattie Mack (3 to 1) and 3 to 1. Homeless (1 to 2 for place) 2, Clara Dee 3. Time—1:15.5.

FOURTH RACE—Seven and one-half furlongs. Broomhedge (2 to 1) and 1 to 1. John Stokely (4 to 1) and 2 to 1. Carlin 3. Time—1:37.

THREE OF THE WINNERS IN TO-DAY'S OLYMPIC GAMES.

Archie Hahn of Milwaukee.

Myer Prinzstein.

JOHNSON STANDS TO WIN $52,000 ON ROSEBEN

BY T. O. PIER.

(Special to The Evening World.)

JAMAICA RACE TRACK, April 27.—"Dave" Johnson will win $52,000 on "Roseben" tomorrow. The horse answers the question. We really don't know what he is capable of.

Lo, the shades of 520 per cent. Miller appeared at the track to-day in the person of J. P. Korn, better known as "Bismarck," erstwhile partner of the 520 per cent. "Bismarck" vamoosed to the Suburban. "Every trial at longer distance we give Roseben," said Mr. Johnson to-day, "the horse answers the question. We really don't know what he is capable of."

Lo, the shades of 520 per cent. Miller appeared at the track to-day in the person of J. P. Korn, better known as "Bismarck," erstwhile partner of the 520 per cent. "Bismarck" vamoosed to the Suburban. "Every trial at longer distance we give Roseben," said Mr. Johnson to-day, "the horse answers the question. We really don't know what he is capable of."

Lo, the shades of 520 per cent. Miller appeared at the track to-day in the person of J. P. Korn, better known as "Bismarck," erstwhile partner of the 520 per cent. "Bismarck" vamoosed to the Suburban. "Every trial at longer distance we give Roseben," said Mr. Johnson to-day, "the horse answers the question. We really don't know what he is capable of."

Lo, the shades of 520 per cent. Miller appeared at the track to-day in the person of J. P. Korn, better known as "Bismarck," erstwhile partner of the 520 per cent. "Bismarck" vamoosed to the Suburban. "Every trial at longer distance we give Roseben," said Mr. Johnson to-day, "the horse answers the question. We really don't know what he is capable of."

Lo, the shades of 520 per cent. Miller appeared at the track to-day in the person of J. P. Korn, better known as "Bismarck," erstwhile partner of the 520 per cent. "Bismarck" vamoosed to the Suburban. "Every trial at longer distance we give Roseben," said Mr. Johnson to-day, "the horse answers the question. We really don't know what he is capable of."

Lo, the shades of 520 per cent. Miller appeared at the track to-day in the person of J. P. Korn, better known as "Bismarck," erstwhile partner of the 520 per cent. "Bismarck" vamoosed to the Suburban. "Every trial at longer distance we give Roseben," said Mr. Johnson to-day, "the horse answers the question. We really don't know what he is capable of."

Lo, the shades of 520 per cent. Miller appeared at the track to-day in the person of J. P. Korn, better known as "Bismarck," erstwhile partner of the 520 per cent. "Bismarck" vamoosed to the Suburban. "Every trial at longer distance we give Roseben," said Mr. Johnson to-day, "the horse answers the question. We really don't know what he is capable of."

Lo, the shades of 520 per cent. Miller appeared at the track to-day in the person of J. P. Korn, better known as "Bismarck," erstwhile partner of the 520 per cent. "Bismarck" vamoosed to the Suburban. "Every trial at longer distance we give Roseben," said Mr. Johnson to-day, "the horse answers the question. We really don't know what he is capable of."

Lo, the shades of 520 per cent. Miller appeared at the track to-day in the person of J. P. Korn, better known as "Bismarck," erstwhile partner of the 520 per cent. "Bismarck" vamoosed to the Suburban. "Every trial at longer distance we give Roseben," said Mr. Johnson to-day, "the horse answers the question. We really don't know what he is capable of."

Lo, the shades of 520 per cent. Miller appeared at the track to-day in the person of J. P. Korn, better known as "Bismarck," erstwhile partner of the 520 per cent. "Bismarck" vamoosed to the Suburban. "Every trial at longer distance we give Roseben," said Mr. Johnson to-day, "the horse answers the question. We really don't know what he is capable of."

Lo, the shades of 520 per cent. Miller appeared at the track to-day in the person of J. P. Korn, better known as "Bismarck," erstwhile partner of the 520 per cent. "Bismarck" vamoosed to the Suburban. "Every trial at longer distance we give Roseben," said Mr. Johnson to-day, "the horse answers the question. We really don't know what he is capable of."

Lo, the shades of 520 per cent. Miller appeared at the track to-day in the person of J. P. Korn, better known as "Bismarck," erstwhile partner of the 520 per cent. "Bismarck" vamoosed to the Suburban. "Every trial at longer distance we give Roseben," said Mr. Johnson to-day, "the horse answers the question. We really don't know what he is capable of."

Lo, the shades of 520 per cent. Miller appeared at the track to-day in the person of J. P. Korn, better known as "Bismarck," erstwhile partner of the 520 per cent. "Bismarck" vamoosed to the Suburban. "Every trial at longer distance we give Roseben," said Mr. Johnson to-day, "the horse answers the question. We really don't know what he is capable of."

Lo, the shades of 520 per cent. Miller appeared at the track to-day in the person of J. P. Korn, better known as "Bismarck," erstwhile partner of the 520 per cent. "Bismarck" vamoosed to the Suburban. "Every trial at longer distance we give Roseben," said Mr. Johnson to-day, "the horse answers the question. We really don't know what he is capable of."

Lo, the shades of 520 per cent. Miller appeared at the track to-day in the person of J. P. Korn, better known as "Bismarck," erstwhile partner of the 520 per cent. "Bismarck" vamoosed to the Suburban. "Every trial at longer distance we give Roseben," said Mr. Johnson to-day, "the horse answers the question. We really don't know what he is capable of."

Lo, the shades of 520 per cent. Miller appeared at the track to-day in the person of J. P. Korn, better known as "Bismarck," erstwhile partner of the 520 per cent. "Bismarck" vamoosed to the Suburban. "Every trial at longer distance we give Roseben," said Mr. Johnson to-day, "the horse answers the question. We really don't know what he is capable of."

Lo, the shades of 520 per cent. Miller appeared at the track to-day in the person of J. P. Korn, better known as "Bismarck," erstwhile partner of the 520 per cent. "Bismarck" vamoosed to the Suburban. "Every trial at longer distance we give Roseben," said Mr. Johnson to-day, "the horse answers the question. We really don't know what he is capable of."

Lo, the shades of 520 per cent. Miller appeared at the track to-day in the person of J. P. Korn, better known as "Bismarck," erstwhile partner of the 520 per cent. "Bismarck" vamoosed to the Suburban. "Every trial at longer distance we give Roseben," said Mr. Johnson to-day, "the horse answers the question. We really don't know what he is capable of."

Lo, the shades of 520 per cent. Miller appeared at the track to-day in the person of J. P. Korn, better known as "Bismarck," erstwhile partner of the 520 per cent. "Bismarck" vamoosed to the Suburban. "Every trial at longer distance we give Roseben," said Mr. Johnson to-day, "the horse answers the question. We really don't know what he is capable of."

Myer Prinzstein, of the New York Irish-American Athletic Club, Wins the Running Long Jump To-day in Fine Style.

HAHN, OF MILWAUKEE, IS FIRST IN 100-METRE RACE.

F. R. Moulton, of Kansas City, Runs Second—Three Americans Qualify for the 1,500 Metre Race and Seven for the 400 Metre.

BY ROBERT EDGREN.

Evening World Staff Correspondent with the American Team at Athens.

ATHENS, April 27.—Tell them to beat the hewgag and sound the tom-tom for the boys from home are keeping up their same win streak at the Olympian games.

To-day Myer Prinzstein, Irish-American A. C., won the running jump, and in the final heat for the 100-metre race Archie Hahn, Milwaukee A. C., finished first, and Fay R. Moulton, Kansas City A. C., second. It looks as if Old Glory were going to stay put at Athens.

We are all mighty happy here to-night, for the contestants from the little old United States made a splendid showing all around in this afternoon's events. The line of work that Daniels, N. Y. A. C., cut out for the rest of us when he won the 100-yard swimming race and to which Martin Sheridan, Irish-American A. C., gave impetus when he heaved the discus clear through the world's record and smashed it to splinters, didn't suffer a bit of a let-down to-day on the great field where the gladiators of the world are fighting for honors.

Hahn Wins the Race. We took the first two honors in the final heat, winning the great 100-metre dash. Hahn went away from the tape like a streak of scared sunshine, and he helped to make Milwaukee more famous by winning in 11.5 seconds. But he had to hustle to beat that other wing-footed Western lad, Fay Moulton, wearing Kansas City colors, who ran him close all the way and finished second, with several yards to spare. Barker, the Australian kangaroo, was third.

Then Myer Prinzstein, of the Irish-Americans, mended his hold on the title of the world's champion running long jumper. He covered 7 metres 20 centimetres. P. O'Connor, of England, was second, but Prinzstein beat him over 17 centimetres. O'Connor's score was 7 metres 3.12 centimetres. Daniels, another Greco-Latin, was third with 15 metres 58 centimetres.

Perhaps our fellows should have been satisfied after the showing, but they weren't, evidently, for Bonhag, Irish-American A. C., ran third in the second heat of the 1,500-metre race, and Cohn, of the same organization, came fourth. This qualifies Bonhag for the final heat.

The first heat of the 1,500-metre race was won by James D. Lightbody, of Chicago University. Time, 3m. 19.25s. Helander, Sweden, was second; James P. Sullivan, Irish-American A. C., New York, was third.

In throwing the stone, Giorgantini, the Greek champion, turned the tables a bit on Martin Sheridan, who bested him so decisively earlier in the week at throwing the discus. The Greek put the stone 39 metres 62.15 centimetres. Although Sheridan is not particularly fond of the stone, he was second. The previous champion's throw was 39 metres 3.12 centimetres. Doria, another Greek, was third with 37 metres 58 centimetres.

Turning Tables on Sheridan. In throwing the stone, Giorgantini, the Greek champion, turned the tables a bit on Martin Sheridan, who bested him so decisively earlier in the week at throwing the discus. The Greek put the stone 39 metres 62.15 centimetres. Although Sheridan is not particularly fond of the stone, he was second. The previous champion's throw was 39 metres 3.12 centimetres. Doria, another Greek, was third with 37 metres 58 centimetres.

Turning Tables on Sheridan. In throwing the stone, Giorgantini, the Greek champion, turned the tables a bit on Martin Sheridan, who bested him so decisively earlier in the week at throwing the discus. The Greek put the stone 39 metres 62.15 centimetres. Although Sheridan is not particularly fond

of the stone, he was second. The previous champion's throw was 39 metres 3.12 centimetres. Doria, another Greek, was third with 37 metres 58 centimetres.

Turning Tables on Sheridan. In throwing the stone, Giorgantini, the Greek champion, turned the tables a bit on Martin Sheridan, who bested him so decisively earlier in the week at throwing the discus. The Greek put the stone 39 metres 62.15 centimetres. Although Sheridan is not particularly fond

of the stone, he was second. The previous champion's throw was 39 metres 3.12 centimetres. Doria, another Greek, was third with 37 metres 58 centimetres.

Turning Tables on Sheridan. In throwing the stone, Giorgantini, the Greek champion, turned the tables a bit on Martin Sheridan, who bested him so decisively earlier in the week at throwing the discus. The Greek put the stone 39 metres 62.15 centimetres. Although Sheridan is not particularly fond

of the stone, he was second. The previous champion's throw was 39 metres 3.12 centimetres. Doria, another Greek, was third with 37 metres 58 centimetres.

Turning Tables on Sheridan. In throwing the stone, Giorgantini, the Greek champion, turned the tables a bit on Martin Sheridan, who bested him so decisively earlier in the week at throwing the discus. The Greek put the stone 39 metres 62.15 centimetres. Although Sheridan is not particularly fond of the stone, he was second. The previous champion's throw was 39 metres 3.12 centimetres. Doria, another Greek, was third with 37 metres 58 centimetres.

Turning Tables on Sheridan. In throwing the stone, Giorgantini, the Greek champion, turned the tables a bit on Martin Sheridan, who bested him so decisively earlier in the week at throwing the discus. The Greek put the stone 39 metres 62.15 centimetres. Although Sheridan is not particularly fond of the stone, he was second. The previous champion's throw was 39 metres 3.12 centimetres. Doria, another Greek, was third with 37 metres 58 centimetres.

Turning Tables on Sheridan. In throwing the stone, Giorgantini, the Greek champion, turned the tables a bit on Martin Sheridan, who bested him so decisively earlier in the week at throwing the discus. The Greek put the stone 39 metres 62.15 centimetres. Although Sheridan is not particularly fond of the stone, he was second. The previous champion's throw was 39 metres 3.12 centimetres. Doria, another Greek, was third with 37 metres 58 centimetres.

Turning Tables on Sheridan. In throwing the stone, Giorgantini, the Greek champion, turned the tables a bit on Martin Sheridan, who bested him so decisively earlier in the week at throwing the discus. The Greek put the stone 39 metres 62.15 centimetres. Although Sheridan is not particularly fond of the stone, he was second. The previous champion's throw was 39 metres 3.12 centimetres. Doria, another Greek, was third with 37 metres 58 centimetres.

Turning Tables on Sheridan. In throwing the stone, Giorgantini, the Greek champion, turned the tables a bit on Martin Sheridan, who bested him so decisively earlier in the week at throwing the discus. The Greek put the stone 39 metres 62.15 centimetres. Although Sheridan is not particularly fond of the stone, he was second. The previous champion's throw was 39 metres 3.12 centimetres. Doria, another Greek, was third with 37 metres 58 centimetres.

Turning Tables on Sheridan. In throwing the stone, Giorgantini, the Greek champion, turned the tables a bit on Martin Sheridan, who bested him so decisively earlier in the week at throwing the discus. The Greek put the stone 39 metres 62.15 centimetres. Although Sheridan is not particularly fond of the stone, he was second. The previous champion's throw was 39 metres 3.12 centimetres. Doria, another Greek, was third with 37 metres 58 centimetres.

Turning Tables on Sheridan. In throwing the stone, Giorgantini, the Greek champion, turned the tables a bit on Martin Sheridan, who bested him so decisively earlier in the week at throwing the discus. The Greek put the stone 39 metres 62.15 centimetres. Although Sheridan is not particularly fond of the stone, he was second. The previous champion's throw was 39 metres 3.12 centimetres. Doria, another Greek, was third with 37 metres 58 centimetres.

Turning Tables on Sheridan. In throwing the stone, Giorgantini, the Greek champion, turned the tables a bit on Martin Sheridan, who bested him so decisively earlier in the week at throwing the discus. The Greek put the stone 39 metres 62.15 centimetres. Although Sheridan is not particularly fond of the stone, he was second. The previous champion's throw was 39 metres 3.12 centimetres. Doria, another Greek, was third with 37 metres 58 centimetres.

Turning Tables on Sheridan. In throwing the stone, Giorgantini, the Greek champion, turned the tables a bit on Martin Sheridan, who bested him so decisively earlier in the week at throwing the discus. The Greek put the stone 39 metres 62.15 centimetres. Although Sheridan is not particularly fond of the stone, he was second. The previous champion's throw was 39 metres 3.12 centimetres. Doria, another Greek, was third with 37 metres 58 centimetres.

Turning Tables on Sheridan. In throwing the stone, Giorgantini, the Greek champion, turned the tables a bit on Martin Sheridan, who bested him so decisively earlier in the week at throwing the discus. The Greek put the stone 39 metres 62.15 centimetres. Although Sheridan is not particularly fond of the stone, he was second. The previous champion's throw was 39 metres 3.12 centimetres. Doria, another Greek, was third with 37 metres 58 centimetres.

Turning Tables on Sheridan. In throwing the stone, Giorgantini, the Greek champion, turned the tables a bit on Martin Sheridan, who bested him so decisively earlier in the week at throwing the discus. The Greek put the stone 39 metres 62.15 centimetres. Although Sheridan is not particularly fond of the stone, he was second. The previous champion's throw was 39 metres 3.12 centimetres. Doria, another Greek, was third with 37 metres 58 centimetres.

Turning Tables on Sheridan. In throwing the stone, Giorgantini, the Greek champion, turned the tables a bit on Martin Sheridan, who bested him so decisively earlier in the week at throwing the discus. The Greek put the stone 39 metres 62.15 centimetres. Although Sheridan is not particularly fond of the stone, he was second. The previous champion's throw was 39 metres 3.12 centimetres. Doria, another Greek, was third with 37 metres 58 centimetres.

Turning Tables on Sheridan. In throwing the stone, Giorgantini, the Greek champion, turned the tables a bit on Martin Sheridan, who bested him so decisively earlier in the week at throwing the discus. The Greek put the stone 39 metres 62.15 centimetres. Although Sheridan is not particularly fond of the stone, he was second. The previous champion's throw was 39 metres 3.12 centimetres. Doria, another Greek, was third with 37 metres 58 centimetres.

Turning Tables on Sheridan. In throwing the stone, Giorgantini, the Greek champion, turned the tables a bit on Martin Sheridan, who bested him so decisively earlier in the week at throwing the discus. The Greek put the stone 39 metres 62.15 centimetres. Although Sheridan is not particularly fond of the stone, he was second. The previous champion's throw was 39 metres 3.12 centimetres. Doria, another Greek, was third with 37 metres 58 centimetres.

Turning Tables on Sheridan. In throwing the stone, Giorgantini, the Greek champion, turned the tables a bit on Martin Sheridan, who bested him so decisively earlier in the week at throwing the discus. The Greek put the stone 39 metres 62.15 centimetres. Although Sheridan is not particularly fond of the stone, he was second. The previous champion's throw was 39 metres 3.12 centimetres. Doria, another Greek, was third with 37 metres 58 centimetres.

Turning Tables on Sheridan. In throwing the stone, Giorgantini, the Greek champion, turned the tables a bit on Martin Sheridan, who bested him so decisively earlier in the week at throwing the discus. The Greek put the stone 39 metres 62.15 centimetres. Although Sheridan is not particularly fond of the stone, he was second. The previous champion's throw was 39 metres 3.12 centimetres. Doria, another Greek, was third with 37 metres 58 centimetres.

Turning Tables on Sheridan. In throwing the stone, Giorgantini, the Greek champion, turned the tables a bit on Martin Sheridan, who bested him so decisively earlier in the week at throwing the discus. The Greek put the stone 39 metres 62.15 centimetres. Although Sheridan is not particularly fond of the stone, he was second. The previous champion's throw was 39 metres 3.12 centimetres. Doria, another Greek, was third with 37 metres 58 centimetres.

Turning Tables on Sheridan. In throwing the stone, Giorgantini, the Greek champion, turned the tables a bit on Martin Sheridan, who bested him so decisively earlier in the week at throwing the discus. The Greek put the stone 39 metres 62.15 centimetres. Although Sheridan is not particularly fond of the stone, he was second. The previous champion's throw was 39 metres 3.12 centimetres. Doria, another Greek, was third with 37 metres 58 centimetres.

Turning Tables on Sheridan. In throwing the stone, Giorgantini, the Greek champion, turned the tables a bit on Martin Sheridan, who bested him so decisively earlier in the week at throwing the discus. The Greek put the stone 39 metres 62.15 centimetres. Although Sheridan is not particularly fond of the stone, he was second. The previous champion's throw was 39 metres 3.12 centimetres. Doria, another Greek, was third with 37 metres 58 centimetres.

Turning Tables on Sheridan. In throwing the stone, Giorgantini, the Greek champion, turned the tables a bit on Martin Sheridan, who bested him so decisively earlier in the week at throwing the discus. The Greek put the stone 39 metres 62.15 centimetres. Although Sheridan is not particularly fond of the stone, he was second. The previous champion's throw was 39 metres 3.12 centimetres. Doria, another Greek, was third with 37 metres 58 centimetres.

Turning Tables on Sheridan. In throwing the stone, Giorgantini, the Greek champion, turned the tables a bit on Martin Sheridan, who bested him so decisively earlier in the week at throwing the discus. The Greek put the stone 39 metres 62.15 centimetres. Although Sheridan is not particularly fond of the stone, he was second. The previous champion's throw was 39 metres 3.12 centimetres. Doria, another Greek, was third with 37 metres 58 centimetres.

Turning Tables on Sheridan. In throwing the stone, Giorgantini, the Greek champion, turned the tables a bit on Martin Sheridan, who bested him so decisively earlier in the week at throwing the discus. The Greek put the stone 39 metres 62.15 centimetres. Although Sheridan is not particularly fond of the stone, he was second. The previous champion's throw was 39 metres 3.12 centimetres. Doria, another Greek, was third with 37 metres 58 centimetres.

Turning Tables on Sheridan. In throwing the stone, Giorgantini, the Greek champion, turned the tables a bit on Martin Sheridan, who bested him so decisively earlier in the week at throwing the discus. The Greek put the stone 39 metres 62.15 centimetres. Although Sheridan is not particularly fond of the stone, he was second. The previous champion's throw was 39 metres 3.12 centimetres. Doria, another Greek, was third with 37 metres 58 centimetres.

Turning Tables on Sheridan. In throwing the stone, Giorgantini, the Greek champion, turned the tables a bit on Martin Sheridan, who bested him so decisively earlier in the week at throwing the discus. The Greek put the stone 39 metres 62.15 centimetres. Although Sheridan is not particularly fond of the stone, he was second. The previous champion's throw was 39 metres 3.12 centimetres. Doria, another Greek, was third with 37 metres 58 centimetres.

Turning Tables on Sheridan. In throwing the stone, Giorgantini, the Greek champion, turned the tables a bit on Martin Sheridan, who bested him so decisively earlier in the week at throwing the discus. The Greek put the stone 39 metres 62.15 centimetres. Although Sheridan is not particularly fond

of the stone, he was second. The previous champion's throw was 39 metres 3.12 centimetres. Doria, another Greek, was third with 37 metres 58 centimetres.

Turning Tables on Sheridan. In throwing the stone, Giorgantini, the Greek champion, turned the tables a bit on Martin Sheridan, who bested him so decisively earlier in the week at throwing the discus. The Greek put the stone 39 metres 62.15 centimetres. Although Sheridan is not particularly fond